but which no longer exists. Sent by Patricia to AISSG UK in January 2008.)

This is a list of articles from medical journals and other sources on MRKH (congenital absence of the vagina with rudimentary uterus).

PubMed is a government sponsored index to articles in medical journals. Many of the articles in this list were found using PubMed. If you are interested in finding citations to additional articles, please try this resource. If a PubMed number is listed with any of the following citations, you can read the abstract for the article by going to the PubMed page using the link at the beginning of this paragraph, searching for the PubMed number (use the number only) and clicking on the author of the article when the citation is found.
